Department of Justice Has
Over 200,000 Cards Giving
Data On Industrial Agitators.

Many Corporations Indicted As Result of Department's Investigation of Profiteering.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Of the many activities of the Department of Justice, including the suppression of illicit liquor and narcotic traffic, the selective service cases and the income tax law enforcements, probably the most interesting and at the same time, most pertinent, is the investigation of the radical operations in the United States. An account of this investigation is contained in the annual report of the United States Department of Justice, made public recently.

Following the mailing of bombs to prominent government officials in May, 1919, and the bomb outrages of June 2, 1919, it became apparent that there must be established a systematic and thorough supervision of the elements that were attempting in various ways to overthrow the government of the United States by force and violence.

On August 1, 1919, there was formed a General Intelligence Division to handle investigations connected with the ultra-radical activities in the United States. Through the efforts of this division a card index system has been established, numbering over 200,000 cards, giving detailed data of individual agitators and societies and organizations connected with the ultra-radical movement of the country. The classification is so complete that a card for a particular city will show at a glance the various organizations of that city with their membership rolls and the names of the officers.

GET REPORTS FROM OTHER OFFICES.

The division receives weekly surveys from the various offices covering all matters of a general intelligence nature coming under their observation. These reports are the basis of a weekly bulletin prepared in the division and distributed to such officials as by nature of their duties are entitled to the information. This bulletin covers the entire field of national and international operations and includes the latest authoritative statements of tactics, programs, principles or platforms of organizations or movements, and gives a bird's eye view of situations at home and abroad.

The first investigation under this organization was made of the Union of Russian Workers of the United States and Canada. In conjunction with the Commissioner of Immigration, approximately 300 arrests were made in eleven cities simultaneously throughout the United States on the night of November 7, 1919. The arrest and subsequent deportation of Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman was a direct result of this drive.

MADE 2,000 ARRESTS

The activities of the Communist Party of America and the Communist Labor Party were closely observed during various strike situations. Their literature found its way to every industrial center of the country urging the workers to engage in armed revolt against the government. On January 2, 1920, the leaders of the Communist parties in the United States were taken into custody simultaneously in thirty-three towns in the country, approximately 2,000 arrests being made. Large quantities of literature and firearms were taken in the various raids.

A careful study of the Industrial Workers of the World has also been made. The publications of this order have been closely scrutinized. Open violence was advocated in circulars distributed on May 1, 1920.

The high cost of living has also taken considerable study on the part of the Department of Justice during the past year. At the outset of the campaign eight or ten of the biggest corporations were studied and subjected to investigation. The results recently received and analyzed, have been prepared for presentation in court. Investigations have been made particularly of the sugar industry, including cane and beet sugar and growing conditions in Cuba. An investigation of this latter phase is being made by a fair-priced commissioner who made a trip to Cuba for the purpose.

Investigations of two large producing companies, the American Sugar Refining Company and the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company, resulted in the return of indictments now pending.

INDUCTIVE PACKERS

A most exhaustive investigation was made of the clothing manufacturing industry by a fair-priced commissioner thoroughly conversant with conditions of the trade. This investigation and action based on it were largely instrumental in breaking down the effort to maintain prices by means of the so-called price guaranty, says the report. A thorough investigation of the meat packing business resulted in the indictment of the following packers: Morris & Co., Wilson & Co., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the Cadbury Packing Co. A general investigation was made of hotels and restaurants by means of questionnaires. This investigation and the activities of the fair-priced commissioners was responsible for the revision of menu prices in many cities.

Since the enactment of the prohibition law, illicit distilling has materially increased, and in some jurisdictions prosecutions have clogged the court calendars. In the instance of certain minor offenders against this law it has been advisable to accept terms in compromise, but it is hoped that the vigorous prosecution to which many offenders have been subjected will reduce the number of violations to a great extent. The total number of criminal prosecutions begun under the internal revenue laws, including illicit distilling cases, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, was 8,401. There were 4,662 convictions under this head. The aggregate amount of fines, forfeitures and penalties imposed during the period is $910,242.53. Under the national prohibition act during this period, 611 civil and 7,291 criminal cases were commenced and 92 civil and 5,095 criminal cases terminated in the various districts. Of these, 4,315 cases ended in convictions and but 125 in acquittals; 655 were dismissed on demurrer and other writs.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—If the present plans of the Dominion game authorities are carried out, Alberta will have a new animal park. It is estimated that there are 175 antelopes running wild in the Brooks and Lake Muir districts, and it is proposed to construct a strong fence in which to inclose and protect them.

"PETE" JONES
IS K. U. CAPTAIN

"Pete" Jones, for two years guard on the K. U. football team, has been elected to the captaincy for the fall season of 1921. Jones was prominently mentioned by many critics for an all-Valley berth this fall, but the competition was too keen for him to receive the final selection.

K. U. authorities seem very well satisfied with their coaching staff as it now stands. While they lose several good athletes by graduation they claim the greatest freshman team which will advance to the varsity next fall that has ever competed against the regulars.
